ABOUT ME

I am a marketing analyst with a passion for turning data into actionable marketing strategy that drives business impact. I have turned 1.4M-customer email channel data and 2M+ loyalty member data into actionable insights and recommendation strategies. Hands-on experience across customer insights, growth marketing, market research, customer segmentation, and consulting. Results include a 10% conversion-rate lift for a 1.4M-customer email channel at Wayfair, and a 25% lift in monthly visits from 2M+ loyalty members at Caribou Coffee. Findings presented directly to $2M+ project clients and C-suite executives, covering strategy, performance, and client growth, with results measured in conversion and visits.
